INTRODUCTION

PURPOSE OF POLICIES

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Public Services Policies of the Westerville Public Library explain and regulate the manner in which the Library directly interacts with Library customers and the community it serves. These policies describe the variety, extent, and limit of services and materials offered by the Library, and ensure that customers and staff alike may understand what those opportunities and limits are. Policies are approved by the Westerville Public Library Board of Trustees and are reviewed and revised as necessary.

VISION STATEMENT

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Westerville Public Library will be a leading public library in America. Through innovation and imagination we will provide an environment where people of all backgrounds and ages may dream their dreams, exercise their imaginations, feed their intellects, nurture success and otherwise enhance their lives.

MISSION STATEMENT

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Westerville Public Library provides materials, programs and services to residents of all ages in Franklin and Delaware counties to assist in their pursuit of information and resources to meet their educational, professional and personal needs. Particular emphasis is placed on delivering quality reference services and providing popular materials of high interest to the residents of the Westerville School District. The Library also serves to stimulate young children's interest and appreciation for reading and learning.

LIBRARY BILL OF RIGHTS

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The American Library Association and the Westerville Public Library affirm that all libraries are forums for information and ideas, and that the following basic policies should guide their services:

1. Books and other library resources should be provided for the interest, information, and enlightenment of all people of the community the library serves. Materials should not be excluded because of the origin, background, or views of those contributing to their creation.
2. Libraries should provide materials and information presenting all points of view on current and historical issues. Materials should not be proscribed or removed because of partisan or doctrinal disapproval.
3. Libraries should challenge censorship in the fulfillment of their responsibility to provide information and enlightenment.
4. Libraries should cooperate with all persons and groups concerned with resisting abridgment of free expression and free access to ideas.
5. A person's right to use a library should not be denied or abridged because of origin, age, background, or views.
6. Libraries, which make exhibit spaces and meeting rooms available to the public they serve should make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use. However, certain restrictions do apply to political organizations.

FREEDOM TO READ STATEMENT

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The freedom to read is essential to our democracy. It is continuously under attack. Private groups and public authorities in various parts of the country are working to remove or limit access to reading materials, to censor content in schools, to label "controversial" views, to distribute lists of "objectionable" books or authors, and to purge libraries. These actions apparently rise from a view that our national tradition of free expression is no longer valid; that censorship and suppression are needed to counter threats to safety or national security, as well as to avoid the subversion of politics and the corruption of morals. We, as individuals devoted to reading and as librarians and publishers responsible for disseminating ideas, wish to assert the public interest in the preservation of the freedom to read.

Most attempts at suppression rest on a denial of the fundamental premise of democracy: that the ordinary individual, by exercising critical judgment, will select the good and reject the bad. We trust Americans to recognize propaganda and misinformation, and to make their own decisions about what they read and believe. We do not believe they are prepared to sacrifice their heritage of a free press in order to be "protected" against what others think may be bad for them. We believe they still favor free enterprise in ideas and expression.

These efforts at suppression are related to a larger pattern of pressures being brought against education, the press, art and images, films, broadcast media, and the Internet. The problem is not only one of actual censorship. The shadow of fear cast by these pressures leads, we suspect, to an even larger voluntary curtailment of expression by those who seek to avoid controversy or unwelcome scrutiny by government officials.

Such pressure toward conformity is perhaps natural to a time of accelerated change. And yet suppression is never more dangerous than in such a time of social tension. Freedom has given the United States the elasticity to endure strain. Freedom keeps open the path of novel and creative solutions, and enables change to come by choice. Every silencing of a heresy, every enforcement of an orthodoxy, diminishes the toughness and resilience of our society and leaves it the less able to deal with controversy and difference.

Now as always in our history, reading is among our greatest freedoms. The freedom to read and write is almost the only means for making generally available ideas or manners of expression that can initially command only a small audience. The written word is the natural medium for the new idea and the untried voice from which come the original contributions to social growth. It is essential to the extended discussion that serious thought requires, and to the accumulation of knowledge and ideas into organized collections.

We believe that free communication is essential to the preservation of a free society and a creative culture. We believe that these pressures toward conformity present the danger of limiting the range and variety of inquiry and expression on which our democracy and our culture depend. We believe that every American community must jealously guard the freedom to publish and to circulate, in order to preserve its own freedom to read. We believe that publishers and librarians have a profound responsibility to give validity to that freedom to read by making it possible for the readers to choose freely from a variety of offerings.

The freedom to read is guaranteed by the Constitution. Those with faith in free people will stand firm on these constitutional guarantees of essential rights and will exercise the responsibilities that accompany these rights.

We therefore affirm these propositions:

1. It is in the public interest for publishers and librarians to make available the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those that are unorthodox, unpopular, or considered dangerous by the majority.

Creative thought is by definition new, and what is new is different. The bearer of every new thought is a rebel until that idea is refined and tested. Totalitarian systems attempt to maintain themselves in power by the ruthless suppression of any concept that challenges the established orthodoxy. The power of a democratic system to adapt to change is vastly strengthened by the freedom of its citizens to choose widely from among conflicting opinions offered freely to them. To stifle every nonconformist idea at birth would mark the end of the democratic process. Furthermore, only through the constant activity of weighing and selecting can the democratic mind attain the strength demanded by times like these. We need to know not only what we believe but why we believe it.

2. Publishers, librarians, and booksellers do not need to endorse every idea or presentation they make available. It would conflict with the public interest for them to establish their own political, moral, or aesthetic views as a standard for determining what should be published or circulated.

Publishers and librarians serve the educational process by helping to make available knowledge and ideas required for the growth of the mind and the increase of learning. They do not foster education by imposing as mentors the patterns of their own thought. The people should have the freedom to read and consider a broader range of ideas than those that may be held by any single librarian or publisher or government or church. It is wrong that what one can read should be confined to what another thinks proper.

3. It is contrary to the public interest for publishers or librarians to bar access to writings on the basis of the personal history or political affiliations of the author.

No art or literature can flourish if it is to be measured by the political views or private lives of its creators. No society of free people can flourish that draws up lists of writers to whom it will not listen, whatever they may have to say.

4. There is no place in our society for efforts to coerce the taste of others, to confine adults to the reading matter deemed suitable for adolescents, or to inhibit the efforts of writers to achieve artistic expression.

To some, much of modern expression is shocking. But is not much of life itself shocking? We cut off literature at the source if we prevent writers from dealing with the stuff of life. Parents and teachers have a responsibility to prepare the young to meet the diversity of experiences in life to which they will be exposed, as they have a responsibility to help them learn to think critically for themselves. These are affirmative responsibilities, not to be discharged simply by preventing them from reading works for which they are not yet prepared. In these matters values differ, and values cannot be legislated; nor can machinery be devised that will suit the demands of one group without limiting the freedom of others.

5. It is not in the public interest to force a reader to accept the prejudgment of a label characterizing any expression or its author as subversive or dangerous.

The ideal of labeling presupposes the existence of individuals or groups with wisdom to determine by authority what is good or bad for others. It presupposes that individuals must be directed in making up their minds about the ideas they examine. But Americans do not need others to do their thinking for them.

6. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians, as guardians of the people's freedom to read, to contest encroachments upon that freedom by individuals or groups seeking to impose their own standards or tastes upon the community at large; and by the government whenever it seeks to reduce or deny public access to public information.

It is inevitable in the give and take of the democratic process that the political, the moral, or the aesthetic concepts of an individual or group will occasionally collide with those of another individual or group. In a free society individuals are free to determine for themselves what they wish to read, and each group is free to determine what it will recommend to its freely associated members. But no group has the right to take the law into its own hands, and to impose its own concept of politics or morality upon other members of a democratic society. Freedom is no freedom if it is accorded only to the accepted and the inoffensive. Further, democratic societies are more safe, free, and creative when the free flow of public information is not restricted by governmental prerogative or self-censorship.

7. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians to give full meaning to the freedom to read by providing books that enrich the quality and diversity of thought and expression. By the exercise of this affirmative responsibility, they can demonstrate that the answer to a "bad" book is a good one, the answer to a "bad" idea is a good one.

The freedom to read is of little consequence when the reader cannot obtain matter fit for that reader's purpose. What is needed is not only the absence of restraint, but the positive provision of opportunity for the people to read the best that has been thought and said. Books are the major channel by which the intellectual inheritance is handed down, and the principal means of its testing and growth. The defense of the freedom to read requires of all publishers and librarians the utmost of their faculties, and deserves of all Americans the fullest of their support.

We state these propositions neither lightly nor as easy generalizations. We here stake out a lofty claim for the value of the written word. We do so because we believe that it is possessed of enormous variety and usefulness, worthy of cherishing and keeping free. We realize that the application of these propositions may mean the dissemination of ideas and manners of expression that are repugnant to many persons. We do not state these propositions in the comfortable belief that what people read is unimportant. We believe rather that what people read is deeply important; that ideas can be dangerous; but that the suppression of ideas is fatal to a democratic society. Freedom itself is a dangerous way of life, but it is ours.

This statement was originally issued in May of 1953 by the Westchester Conference of the American Library Association and the American Book Publishers Council, which in 1970 consolidated with the American Educational Publishers Institute to become the Association of American Publishers.

Adopted June 25, 1953, by the ALA Council and the AAP Freedom to Read Committee; amended January 28, 1972; January 16, 1991; July 12, 2000; June 30, 2004.

FREEDOM TO VIEW STATEMENT

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The FREEDOM TO VIEW, along with the freedom to speak, to hear, and to read, is protected by the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. In a free society, there is no place for censorship of any medium of expression. Therefore these principles are affirmed:

1. To provide the broadest access to film, video, and other audiovisual materials because they are a means for the communication of ideas. Liberty of circulation is essential to insure the constitutional guarantees of freedom of expression.
2. To protect the confidentiality of all individuals and institutions using film, video, and other audiovisual materials.
3. To provide film, video, and other audiovisual materials which represent a diversity of views and expression. Selection of a work does not constitute or imply agreement with or approval of the content.
4. To provide a diversity of viewpoints without the constraint of labeling or prejudging film, video, or other audiovisual materials on the basis of the moral, religious, or political beliefs of the producer or filmmaker or on the basis of controversial content.
5. To contest vigorously, by all lawful means, every encroachment upon the public's freedom to view.

This statement was originally drafted by the Freedom to View Committee of the American Film and Video Association (formerly the Educational Film Library Association) and was adopted by the AFVA Board of Directors in February 1979. This statement was updated and approved by the AFVA Board of Directors in 1989.

OPERATIONS POLICIES

SERVICE AREA AND GOVERNANCE

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Westerville School District Library (hereafter referred to as the Library) is organized as a school district library. Its legally-defined service area is the same as that of the Westerville City School District. This district is comprised of 52.5 square miles; 37 square miles are within Franklin County with the remaining 15.5 square miles in southern Delaware County.

As a recipient of Public Library Fund monies from the State of Ohio and local property tax funds, the library extends its full services to the inhabitants of the Westerville City School District and abridged services to other residents of the State of Ohio.

The Library is governed by a Board of Trustees (hereafter referred to as the Board) which consists of seven members appointed by the Westerville City Schools Board of Education for terms of seven years. The Board's operating policies are described in its bylaws.

MEETING /CONFERENCE ROOMS

Policy last updated: March 6, 2017

The primary purpose of the meeting rooms on the first floor of the Library is to provide a space for Library and Library-related activities. Needs of the Library for use of the meeting rooms take precedence over use by outside groups. The Library reserves the right to cancel or reschedule any meeting.

The following rules of use apply:

- Westerville Public Library Meeting Rooms may be used by both non-profit and for-profit Organizations free of charge.
- The use of meeting rooms for financial gain is prohibited. This includes marketing or selling goods or services, fundraising, or accepting donations.
- Entrance fees/admission charges are acceptable only to cover the cost of the program (speaker fees, meals, handouts, etc.) Imposing entrance fees/admission fees other than to cover program overhead is strictly prohibited.
- Meeting rooms must be reserved in advance, either in person, by telephone or through our online reservation software.
- Meeting room reservations are not transferable from one group to another.
- Private parties are prohibited. (Examples of reservation requests that WILL NOT be approved include: birthday parties, anniversary parties, baby showers, etc. Examples of reservation requests that WILL be approved include: meetings for Boy Scout troops, condo associations, homeschoolers, PTAs, etc. Memorials that are a religious service will also be approved.)
- If a scheduled meeting is cancelled, the library should be advised at least twenty-four (24) hours in advance.
- Food and drink are permitted in the meeting rooms. Alcoholic beverages and smoking are prohibited in the Westerville Public Library.
- The name, address or telephone number of the Westerville Public Library may not be used as the contact person, nor shall the use of the meeting room be publicized in such a way as to imply the Westerville Public Library sponsorship of the group's activities unless the activity is being co-sponsored by the Westerville Public Library.

- No decorations, posters or any other materials may be installed or displayed inside or outside the meeting rooms without prior Westerville Public Library approval.
- No Westerville Public Library equipment should be removed from the meeting room area without Library approval.

The group using the meeting space shall:

- Have at least one person in attendance who is at least eighteen (18) years of age and who will be responsible for the group and use of the meeting space.
- Be financially responsible for any damage to Westerville Public Library property, buildings, furnishings and/or equipment, and assume responsibility for all loss, damage or injury arising from use of meeting room space.
- Covenant and indemnify themselves for any claim, suit judgment, cost expense or responsibility of any kind whatsoever resulting from use of property; premises or facilities of the Westerville Public Library.

For cause, the Westerville Public Library Executive Director may waive any meeting room regulation and may deny or cancel any application for reservation of meeting room space.

STUDY/TUTOR ROOMS

Policy last updated: March 9, 2017

Study and tutor rooms are located on the second floor of the Library in the Adult Services Department. The following rules of use apply:

- Rooms can be reserved in person, by telephone or through our online reservation software.
- Room reservations are not transferable from one person to another.
- Late policy: Room reservations are held for fifteen minutes. After fifteen minutes the room may be booked for another user.
- Reservations are limited to 3 hours per day.
- If a scheduled meeting is cancelled, please advise the library as soon as possible so that others might use the room.
- Food and drink are permitted in the meeting rooms. Alcoholic beverages and smoking are prohibited in the Westerville Public Library.
- The name, address or telephone number of the Westerville Public Library may not be used as the contact person, nor shall the use of the study or tutor room be publicized in such a way as to imply the Westerville Public Library sponsorship of the activities unless the activity is being co-sponsored by the Westerville Public Library.
- No Westerville Public Library equipment should be removed from the study or tutor room area without library approval.
- The person using the space shall be financially responsible for any damage to Westerville Public Library property, buildings, furnishings and/or equipment, and assume responsibility for all loss, damage or injury arising from use of study and/or tutor room space.
- Private parties are prohibited.

EXHIBITS AND DISPLAYS

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

Exhibit and display spaces are primarily for the promotion of Library materials, programs and services. Preference will always be given to Library needs. When the display cases in the mallway, the meeting room walls, or the display case in Youth Services are not otherwise in use, the Library may provide these spaces for the display or exhibit of collections or materials of general interest to the public.

Displays or exhibits promoting local educational, cultural or recreational opportunities are encouraged. The following categories of exhibit materials are specifically excluded: displays which serve only to advertise active business or commercial ventures, and partisan materials which promote current political candidates, campaigns, parties or issues. The Library reserves the right to approve the content and arrangement of all exhibits, and the director makes the final determination as to whether the materials comply with these guidelines.

Requests for display space must be scheduled in advance. Displays will stay up for approximately one month. Requests are filled on a first come, first served basis. All exhibits must fit within the space allocated.

The presence of a particular display in the Library does not indicate that the library advocates or endorses the viewpoints of exhibits or exhibitors.

The Library assumes no responsibility for the preservation, protection, or possible damage or theft of any item exhibited or displayed. Items are placed on display in the Library at the owner's risk.

PUBLIC BULLETIN BOARD

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

Materials to be posted on the public bulletin board in the Library mallway must be approved by Library administration or a designee. Materials posted without approval will be removed.

Permission will be given based upon the non-profit nature of the material, its timeliness and the limitations of display space. Local non-profit organizations and events will be given preference. The library will not post personal advertisements, or for-profit or commercial materials. Political items will be displayed and distributed in accordance with the Library's Voter Information policy in the Library's Public Services Policies manual.

PUBLIC LITERATURE RACKS

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

Members of the public who wish to distribute printed materials are welcome to place them in the literature racks provided for that purpose. These literature racks are located at the east entrance to the Library, in the glassed-in area between the two sets of automatic doors.

No prior approval is needed for placing materials in the public literature area, but the items must fit within the racks provided. The only intervention by Library staff occurs when materials need to be straightened.

VOTER INFORMATION

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

To aid voters in becoming better informed, the Library provides a voter information table stocked with literature provided by a variety of individuals and groups. Anyone is invited to add materials about ballot issues and candidates to this table; all points of view are welcome. The Library does not endorse a particular candidate or view.

One month prior to an election, the Library will display, on a table in the mallway, any voter information and campaign literature it has received for issues and candidates appearing on local ballots.

Because the Library is an election site, Library staff will remove and discard all campaign materials from display or distribution on the day the polls open.

GIFTS AND DONATIONS

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Library welcomes the support of individuals and groups through contributions of book or non-book materials for the Library's collections; contributions of appropriate gifts that will enhance the Library's physical environment; and bequests, trusts, or donations of monetary or other assets for Library purposes.

Materials and equipment given to, and accepted by, the Library will become the sole property of the Library to be managed as the director or his designee deems appropriate. The Library is unable to furnish appraisals of donated items, and reserves the right to refuse any donation.

The Library accepts gifts of miscellaneous books or other materials with the understanding that items not added to the Library's collection may be given to the Friends of the Westerville Public Library to sell on the Library's behalf.

Individuals or organizations who wish to donate gifts of a more specific nature, such as works of art, furniture, equipment, special collections, and real property, will be referred to the director who, in consultation with the Board, will determine whether or how to accept such a gift.

If an individual or group wishes to donate funds for specific purposes, the amount and nature of the expenditure must be approved by the Board before the gift is accepted. Items so purchased become the property of the Library and may be disposed of accordingly.

The Board accepts and acknowledges gifts at each regular monthly Board meeting.

RECRUITMENT AND USE OF VOLUNTEERS

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Library's volunteer program is designed to expand and enhance public service to the community. Volunteers generally provide support services to paid staff and/or work on special projects. Volunteer tasks may include:

- Shelving recently returned materials
- Assisting Outreach staff who deliver materials to members of the community
- Helping with special projects
- Assisting with Library events and programs
- Helping to process or repair library materials.

An adult, aged 18 years or older, who would like to volunteer at the Library needs to complete an adult volunteer application form. Prospective volunteers will be contacted when an assignment fitting their interests and abilities becomes available.

Teens, ages 12 to 18 years old, are required to fill out a teen volunteer application form, attend a teen volunteer training session prior to volunteering and work the hours they are scheduled, or notify a librarian in Youth Services if unable to work the scheduled hours.

LIBRARY MATERIALS EVALUATION AND SELECTION

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT -- ADULT, YOUTH AND MEDIA DEPARTMENTS

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

Philosophy and Goals

The Westerville Public Library Board of Trustees, working with the staff of the Library, affirms the following objectives:

- ❑ To serve all the people
- ❑ To provide a variety of materials and programming for everyone's informational, educational, recreational and cultural needs
- ❑ To provide qualified staff to give guidance in the use of materials
- ❑ To provide access for all people
- ❑ To initiate a leadership role in the community to serve as a link between the individual and the community
- ❑ To inform the public of Library resources and services
- ❑ To support intellectual freedom

The Westerville Public Library adheres to the principles of the Library Bill of Rights, the Freedom to View, and the Freedom to Read statements adopted by the American Library Association.

In a free society, information on different points of view should be readily available to allow individuals to decide which ideas are meaningful to them. The public library is the institution that provides free access to these ideas. The library, consequently, has the responsibility for selecting materials, which reflect a wide variety of ideas and may contain controversial points of view. Since the library has a responsibility to protect the rights of all users, it does not limit the use of its collection. Librarians may offer guidance in selection; however, monitoring the reading, listening, and viewing of children is the responsibility of their parents or legal guardians.

The needs, interests and points of view of the Westerville Public Library's community range over the spectrum of all subjects inherent to contemporary society. The Westerville Public Library has a responsibility to provide a diversity of materials in both print and non-print forms. Materials are selected to reflect changes in educational, cultural and intellectual ideas and the impact of new technology within the limitations of budget and space.

Criteria for Selection

While a single standard cannot be applied to each potential item for selection, materials are judged by appropriate criteria. In some instances, these criteria include artistic merit, scholarship, or the value of the materials to the informational needs of the community. In other instances, the criterion may be substantial demand.

To build a diversified collection, which supports the library's mission, the following criteria are used. These criteria apply to purchased and donated materials as well as special collections.

1. Availability and suitability of format
2. Suitability of subject, style and level for the intended audience
3. Critics' and staff's reviews
4. Reputation of the publisher or producer; authority and significance of the author, composer, filmmaker, etc.
5. Timeliness or permanence of the material
6. Quality of writing, design, illustrations, or production
7. Relevance to community needs
8. Potential and/or known demand for the material
9. Relative importance in comparison with existing materials in the collection on the same subject
10. Availability and accessibility of the same material in the local area

Special Collections

From time to time, the Westerville Public Library may establish a special collection on a temporary basis or as a permanent collection. A special collection may be developed to meet a particular need in the community or may be established to provide a comprehensive collection of works deemed necessary to address a topic in greater detail. The rules governing the purchasing of books and materials for special collections will be applied the same as the general collection.

Weeding

The Westerville Public Library weeds its collection on a regular basis to keep the collection current and as a timely resource for the community. The library staff will generally follow the principles established in The CREW Manual for detailed guidelines for weeding.

Gifts and Donations

The library welcomes gifts from individuals and groups. The library, however, reserves the right to make the final selection for any materials which will be added to the collection. The library also reserves the right to withdraw materials from the collection when they are no longer appropriate under the collection policy.

Librarians will not give appraisals of gifts and donations for tax purposes.

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT -- LOCAL HISTORY CENTER AND MUSEUM

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

Statement of Purpose

The American Issue Publishing Company, the parent company of the Anti-Saloon League, was incorporated in 1909 and remained active until 1973 when Rev E. H. Dailey, the surviving trustee, donated the American Issue Publishing Company, land, buildings and contents to the Westerville Public Library. The library now acts as trustee of the world's largest collection of temperance books, papers and records. The collection covers the years between 1870 and 1934 and manuscript material has been reproduced on 575 rolls of microfilm. Most of the original material is housed in the Ohio Historical Society archives with many items retained in the Westerville Public Library Local History Center's archives.

The Local History Center has the responsibility to accept and collect material that pertains to the Anti-Saloon League, its subsidiary enterprises and its personages as they related to the history of Westerville. It also accepts and collects material that pertains to the history of the City of Westerville, the School District of Westerville, and the townships of Blendon and Genoa and of Franklin County as it relates to the city and school system for use in meeting the research, educational and recreational needs of its customers.

Generally, to have and exercise all rights and powers conferred on nonprofit corporations under the laws of Ohio, or which may hereafter be conferred, including the power to contract, rent, buy or sell personal or real property; provided, however, that the Local History Center shall not, except to an institutional degree, engage in any activities or exercise any powers that are not in furtherance of the primary purpose of this corporation.

Hereinafter, the Westerville Public Library Anti-Saloon League Museum and Local History Center shall be referred to as the Center.

In order to carry out the purposes of the Center, it has adopted the following Collections Management Policy.

Further Development of Purpose Statement

- A. To collect, preserve, research and interpret materials that pertain to the Anti-Saloon League and to all aspects of the history of Westerville with emphasis on social, educational, business, government and economic activities of its residents as expressed in:
 - 1. Personal documents (letters, diaries)
 - 2. Institutional documents

3. Ephemera (pamphlets, flyers)
 4. Newspapers and clippings
 5. Publications of local organizations (churches, schools, businesses, etc.)
 6. Maps
 7. Photographs with appropriate documentation
 8. Documented drawings
 9. Theses whose main content concerns Westerville
 10. Genealogical histories of Westerville families
 11. Oral histories
- B. To solicit items relating to the history of Westerville as donations to the Center and/or the Westerville Historical Society.
 - C. To make such items available through public display by operating the Center.

Scope of Collection

- A. Items acquired by the Center shall relate to the history of Westerville.
- B. As additional space becomes available and educational programming implemented, it is hoped that acceptance of large artifacts and memorabilia would be possible. At this time, we have neither the space nor the means to preserve and display large items.
- C. All items acquired shall have historic value, which depends on documentation available, and their physical condition.
 1. Materials that lack complete documentation may be collected as long as they contribute to a clearer understanding of the history of Westerville.

Management

- A. The management of the Center shall be under the supervision of the Westerville Public Library and its designated employees.
- B. The Center's personnel shall be in charge of the records and shall record appropriate information about each item or group of items in the collection. This record shall contain, but not be limited to:
 1. Description
 2. Name of donor and historic information
 3. Date of acquisition
 4. Cross-reference

- 5. Control number
- C. The Center shall maintain a separate record for items de-accessioned from the collection. It shall contain the above information as well as the date, method and reason for de-accessioning.
- D. Both the records of acquisitions and the records of dissuasions shall be maintained by the Center. They are regarded as public documents and therefore open to public inspection.
- E. A report shall be written annually enumerating the acquisitions and enumerating the items, which have been de-accessioned during the calendar year.

Acquisitions

- A. Acquisitions may be acquired through donation, bequest, exchange, or purchase: solicited or unsolicited.
- B. Each donation must be accompanied by a Donation Agreement or a will that transfers unrestricted ownership rights to the Westerville Public Library or the Westerville Historical Society.
 - 1. Each donor shall have access to the Collections Management Policy.
 - 2. The donor may place no restrictions on the use of the item.
 - 3. The Center may dispose of the donation if it is considered to have no value to the collection.
- C. Items will not be accepted if the Center has no provision for adequate care of them.
- D. Potential donors will be asked to supply as complete documentation as possible, including a chronological history of the object and its owners.
- E. All legal, moral and ethical implications of the acquisition must be considered before accepting them.
- F. The Center will not make appraisals of prospective donations for tax purposes, but may suggest the name of several knowledgeable appraisers.

Loan of Items

Outgoing Loans of Items

1. The Center may lend items from its collection for the temporary display or educational purposes off-site if such locations offer reasonable security and environmental conditions.
2. Authorization for all loans of items rests with Westerville Public Library acting on the recommendation of the Center.
3. When an item[s] is loaned, the authorized agent of the Westerville Public Library and the second party to the loan must sign a loan contract. The contract must include description and condition of the item borrowed, its estimated value and the dates of the loan period, which correspond with Westerville Public Library policy.
4. Items borrowed must give reference to the Westerville Public Library Local History Center and/or the Westerville Historical Society as appropriate in its display.

Incoming Loans of Items

1. Approval for borrowing items rests with the Westerville Public Library.
2. All items borrowed shall be subject to the same criteria as permanent acquisitions.
3. Upon authorization for borrowing items, the authorized agent of the Westerville Public Library and the second party to the loan must sign a contract. The contract must include description and condition of the item borrowed, its estimated value and the dates of the loan period.
4. The owner must carry insurance on all items.

De-accessioning

- A. From time to time the collection of the Center shall be examined to determine if it contains items that should be removed from the collection. The following criteria shall be used in determining such removal:
 1. The object is duplicated by a better or more representative example of the same type or class of material.
 2. The item has deteriorated physically so that it is no longer useful.
 3. The item is incompatible with the purpose of the Center.
 4. The Center can no longer preserve or care for the object properly.
 5. The item would accomplish more good in another museum or organization.

- B. It shall be the responsibility of the Center to recommend what items should be disposed of and by what means.
 - 1. Return to donor.
 - 2. Exchange, give, or sell to another museum.
 - 3. If not sold, discarded.

- C. Items shall not be sold, given or other wise transferred, publicly or privately, to members of the Center.

- D. Monies acquired from the sale of any items shall be placed in the Library's Temperance Education Fund.

REQUEST TO REPRODUCE MATERIALS -- TEMPERANCE AND JOHN R. KASICH CONGRESSIONAL COLLECTIONS -- FORM

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

Warning concerning copyright restrictions: The copyright law of U.S. [Title 17, United States Code] governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be “used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research.” If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of “fair use,” that user may be liable for copyright infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

Conditions of Reproduction

1. The right to reproduce materials held in the Temperance Collection and Kasich Congressional Collection of the Westerville Public Library is granted on a one-time basis only. Any further reproduction of this material is prohibited without the written permission of the Westerville Public Library.
2. Materials are reproduced for research and educational use only and may not be used for publication, exhibition, or any other public purpose without the express written permission of the Westerville Public Library.
3. Any publication, exhibition, or other public use of materials reproduced from the collections of the library must credit the Westerville Public Library.
4. In requesting permission to reproduce materials from the collections of the Westerville Public Library as described above, the requestor agrees to hold harmless the Westerville Public Library and its Trustees, officers and agents either jointly or severally from any action involving infringement of the rights of any person or their heirs and descendants in common law or under statutory copyright.
5. Permission may be granted to reproduce portions of the collections of the Westerville Public Library. The reproduction of any of the collections of the Westerville Public Library in their entirety is prohibited.
6. Permission to reproduce material in which reproduction rights are reserved must be granted by signed written permission of the persons holding those rights.
7. Materials are not to be removed from the library for reproduction.

8. The Museum Curator may make photocopies.
9. The Library with the full cost chargeable to the requestor will arrange photographic reproduction. Only one print shall be provided, and all negatives shall remain the property of the Library.
10. The requestor agrees to pay all pre-determined usage fees incurred when permission has been granted to publish, broadcast or exhibit this material.
11. Purpose for which reproductions to be used _____

BORROWING OF LIBRARY MATERIALS

LIBRARY CARD REGISTRATION

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

All Ohio residents are welcome to apply for a Library card. Library cards are issued at no charge.

Adults age 18 and over are required to fill out a short application form, show photo identification and proof of current address to a staff member at the Circulation Desk in the Library's main entrance to receive a Library card.

Children under the age of 18 must be accompanied by a parent or legal guardian to receive a Library card. The application form must be completed. If the child does not have photo identification, the photo ID or Library card of the parent or legal guardian may be used instead.

EDUCATOR CARD

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Educator Card, a Library card with special advantages, is designed to help educators who live or work in the Westerville School District make full use of the Library's resources.

Any educator who lives or works in the Westerville School District is eligible for an Educator Card. This includes classroom teachers at institutions of higher education, K-12 classroom teachers in public and private schools, daycare center teachers and home schoolers.

To apply for an Educator Card, an applicant must appear in person at the library with the following items:

- Photo ID (e.g., a driver's license)
- Proof of current address (e.g., a piece of mail addressed to the applicant, a checkbook, or a car insurance card)
- Proof of educator status (a current paycheck stub from place of employment or a copy of current Home Education Notification form).

An Educator Card needs to be renewed in person every year.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF LIBRARY CARD OWNER

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

A Library user is responsible for all materials checked out on his or her Library card.

If such materials are lost, damaged or returned late, the Library card owner is responsible for paying the applicable fines or fees. The parents/legal guardians of a child younger than age 18 are financially responsible for all materials checked out on a minor's card. The parents/legal guardians are also responsible for the appropriateness of materials checked out to their child, including electronic information.

It is the responsibility of the Library card owner to notify the Library immediately if

- a card is lost or stolen
- a change in name, address, phone number or email occurs.

There is no charge for replacing a lost/stolen Library card.

LOAN PERIODS OF LIBRARY MATERIALS

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

Library materials are loaned for a period of 28 days, 21 days, 14 days, 7 days or hourly--depending on the type of item.

Items borrowed through interlibrary loan from another library on behalf of a Westerville Public Library customer are subject to the loan rules of the lending organization.

RENEWING OF LIBRARY MATERIALS

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

Eligible Library items can be renewed for additional loan periods

- online
- by phone
- in the Library.

However, items on reserve for other customers cannot be renewed.

Items borrowed through interlibrary loan from another library on behalf of a Westerville Public Library customer are subject to the renewal rules of the lending organization.

FINES AND FEES

Policy last updated: June 27, 2017

Beginning August 17, 2017 any materials borrowed from and returned to the Westerville Public Library will not be charged overdue fines.

Customers are still responsible for fines accrued prior to August 17, 2017.

When items are 2, 10, and 20 days past due, customers receive notification by phone or email. On the 30th day overdue, a bill for the replacement cost of the item and a $5 processing fee is mailed to the customer's address, and added to the customer's account. At 55 days overdue, the account is sent to a collection agency, and a non-refundable $10 fee is added to pay for the services of the agency. To be sent to the collection agency, an account must owe at least $25 and have at least one item 55 days overdue.

Check out and renewal of items is blocked if fines/fees total more than $10.00 on a library account. [Customers with blocked accounts will not be able to check out any physical materials until the fines have been paid, the overdue materials have been returned, or until the replacement fee has been paid.]

When an item is lost or damaged, the cardholder is required to pay the cost of the item plus the processing fee. The parents/legal guardians are responsible for such charges on a child's card.

Items borrowed through interlibrary loan from another library on behalf of a Westerville Public Library customer are subject to the fines/fees rules of the lending institution.

BANKRUPTCY

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The bankruptcy process is handled by the Library's Customer Services Manager or designee.

Once the Library is notified that a bankruptcy has been filed, collection activity is suspended on the customer's account and on the accounts of any minor children--to the extent that the charges existed prior to the date of the bankruptcy filing--until the library is notified of the outcome.

If a bankruptcy results in a discharge of debts, all fines, fees and collection agency charges on the account are waived. However, all Library materials borrowed on any account covered by the bankruptcy decision must be returned in order to have a Library card in good standing.

Fines and fees incurred after the period of time covered by the bankruptcy proceedings are not covered by the discharge document and will remain on the borrower's account and those of any minor children.

BORROWING FROM OTHER LIBRARIES -- SEARCHOHIO

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Westerville Public Library is a member of SearchOhio, a consortium of public libraries throughout the state that offer reciprocal borrowing privileges to one another.

The customer can request an item if it is available at a SearchOhio library and have the item delivered to the Westerville Public Library.

The borrowing of items through this interlibrary loan system is subject to the rules and practices of the lending organization.

BORROWING FROM OTHER LIBRARIES -- OHIOLINK

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Westerville Public Library is a member of OhioLINK, a consortium of Ohio's college and university libraries and the State Library of Ohio, all of which offer reciprocal borrowing privileges to one another.

The customer can request an item if it is available from an OhioLINK library and have the item delivered to the Westerville Public Library.

The borrowing of items through this interlibrary loan system is subject to the rules and practices of the lending organization.

PUBLIC ACCESS TO LIBRARY RECORDS

PUBLIC RECORDS REQUESTS

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Westerville Public Library maintains many records that are used in the administration and operation of the Library in accordance with the Ohio Revised Code. Public access to these records is available within the guidelines explained in the Library's Public Records Policy. This policy is available in the Library's printed policy manual and also accessible 24/7 by visiting the Library Policies page on the Library website--<http://www.westervillelibrary.org/policies>.

RELEASING LIBRARY ACCOUNT INFORMATION

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The privacy of Library records is a responsibility that the Library takes very seriously. For a customer's protection and in accordance with Ohio law, Library account information is disclosed in the following ways.

A customer's Library account contains:

- Titles checked out on the customer's Library card
- Titles on reserve for the customer
- Personal information including address & phone number
- Any fines or fees owed

To borrow materials, a customer must present a Library card or his/her photo ID.

To discuss his/her Library account, a customer must

- show his/her Library card OR
- his/her photo ID OR
- provide his/her full name and card number

To discuss his/her child's (under age 18) Library account, a person must

- show his/her child's Library card OR
- show his/her photo ID or his/her Library card with same last name or address as child OR
- provide child's full name and card number

To discuss another person's Library account, one must

- show that person's Library card OR
- provide that person's full name and card number.

REFERENCE/INFORMATION AND TECHNOLOGY CENTER SERVICES

SERVICE STANDARDS AND GUIDELINES

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Library recognizes and respects that each question is important to the customer who asks it. Library staff will use authoritative and appropriate sources to respond to all customer questions. In some cases, staff may refer a customer to other agencies that can more completely answer a question. The number of customers waiting for help may restrict the time available to help any one customer; however, staff will strive to provide effective service to all customers.

Reference/Information Service Guidelines:

- Legal and Tax Information -- Staff provide legal definitions and specific citations from the legal codes, but do not interpret passages. Staff do not recommend specific attorneys, but may suggest the customer contact an attorney or the local bar association for further assistance. Staff assist customers in locating specific tax forms and publications. Staff do not interpret tax regulations or provide tax advice.
- Medical Information -- Staff will assist customers in finding information about diseases, medical conditions, tests, and treatments in print and electronic resources. Staff do not interpret the information found in these medical resources. Staff do not make diagnoses, give advice, or recommend specific health care professionals.
- Research Requests -- If the information needed to answer a question is very lengthy or must be compiled from several sources, staff help the customer to locate appropriate materials, show him or her how to use them, and check periodically to make sure the customer is progressing well. When a research request is phoned in, staff encourage the customer to come to the Library in person if the appropriate materials are accessible in the Library. Staff may recommend electronic resources and borrowing from other libraries, and may make referrals to other libraries and organizations when those collections would better meet the customer's needs.

Technology Center Service Guidelines:

- Computer Program/Website Assistance -- Technology Center staff will get customers started on the computer program/website in which they have an interest. In some cases, staff may not know how to use a program or resource about which the customer has a question. In these cases, staff may refer customers to appropriate book or online resources for instruction, or to another agency to more completely answer a question.
- Projects -- Technology Center staff will introduce customers to programs, and offer basic instruction and assistance, but they may not do an individual's project for them. However, staff will be available to answer questions if the need for help arises.
- Computer Use -- Technology Center computers are generally limited to one hour of use. Technology Center staff may extend this time for exams, school work, or media projects. It is the customers' responsibility to save their work, so they do not lose it when their session ends.
- Duration of Assistance -- Technology Center staff may not be able to stay with any one customer for the duration of their work shift, as they will need to help other customers as well. Customers needing extensive assistance with a program should contact the reference/information staff in the Library's Adult Services department to make an appointment to receive help. Reference/information staff, unlike Technology Center staff, are available for more detailed questions like setting up email, resume assistance, and the job application process.

TECHNOLOGY

TERMS OF USE

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The following Terms of Use apply to all Library computer use and Internet access.

The Westerville Public Library provides access to the Internet and other electronic services to further its mission of selecting informational and educational resources of value to the community. These services are offered in conformity with the Library Bill of Rights, the Freedom to Read policy and the Freedom to View policy.

The Internet contains many different kinds of material, some of which may be deemed to be of a controversial or offensive nature. In offering Internet access, the library staff cannot control nor assume total responsibility for:

- Access points reached
- The content of interactive communication such as e-mail and newsgroups
- The validity of information
- Accessibility due to technical difficulties or Internet reliability
- Privacy of information from any websites left open by a customer

By using the Westerville Public Library's network, customers agree to the following:

- These workstations are part of the Library's Local Area Network (LAN). Each workstation in the network is set up to run pre-installed software only.
- Do not attempt to run your own software, customize files, or change configurations.
- Do not turn off the computer or reboot the system. Ask a library staff member for assistance.
- To improve privacy of online service accounts, such as e-mail, electronic ordering, etc., log out of each such service when finished with it.
- When finished using the workstation, be sure to remove any personal storage devices and log off of the workstation.

Inappropriate Use

In order to comply with contemporary community standards regarding obscenity as defined in 2907.01 of the Ohio Revised Code, the Library deems as inappropriate the following uses and practices:

- Display of sexually explicit graphics
- Display or transmission of profane, abusive or threatening language
- Unauthorized copying of copyright-protected materials.
- Violating any local, state or federal statute.

Parental Responsibility

Parents must share with the Library the responsibility for their children's use of the Internet. Access to material that is considered harmful to juveniles as described in the OBSCENITY section of the Ohio Revised Code 2907.31 is not permitted because those materials do not support the mission of the Library. For more information on child safety on the Internet, we recommend viewing the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children's NetSmartz program.

Those persons having a concern about access to the Internet should ask at the reference desk in the Adult Services Department for the Statement of Concern form. The completed statement should be returned to the reference desk for processing.

Security

- Computers and peripherals are not to be opened or disassembled for any reason. Furthermore, deliberate altering of any aspect of any computer, peripheral, or associated firmware/software in a manner that defeats security measures protecting the integrity of computers, software configurations, or network systems will result in the loss of library computer privileges and possible legal ramifications.
- Destruction or damage of equipment due to willful misuse will result in legal action.
- Willful removal of any part of the computer will be considered theft and will result in legal action.

Customers violating any usage guideline will be asked to stop. If the violation continues, the customers will forfeit the right to use the computers at the Westerville Public Library.

Internet Access Policy Statement

The Internet is a worldwide network of computers that contains millions of pages of information. Users are cautioned that many of these pages include offensive, sexually explicit, and inappropriate material. In general, it is difficult to avoid at least some contact with this material while using the Internet. Even innocuous search requests may lead to sites with highly offensive content. Additionally, having an e-mail address on the Internet may lead to receipt of unsolicited e-mail containing offensive content. Users accessing the Internet do so at their own risk and the Westerville Public Library is not responsible for material viewed or downloaded by users from the Internet.

To minimize these risks, your use of the Internet at the Westerville Public Library is governed by the following policy:

Our Acceptable Use Policy notes the vast amount of information and opinions from varied points of view available on the Internet. The Internet is not monitored; users may encounter material they find offensive. Parents and guardians of minor children are encouraged to use available resources to guide their children's use of the Internet, such as the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children's NetSmartz program.

In order to comply with contemporary community standards regarding obscenity as defined in Section 2907.01 of the Ohio Revised Code, the library deems as inappropriate the following uses and practices:

- Accessing pornographic materials and sexually explicit graphics
- Display or transmission of profane, abusive or threatening language
- Transmission of threatening, obscene or harassing materials
- Unauthorized copying of copyright-protected materials
- Violating any local, state, or federal statute
- Users violating acceptable use standards may lose Internet, computer and library privileges

American Library Association and the Westerville Public Library

ALA is an advocate for libraries, librarians and library trustees through publications, continuing education, legislative assistance, and promotion of libraries and reading. The Westerville Public Library is an institution member receiving subscriptions and member discounts on publications, workshops and conferences worth far more than the annual membership fee.

The American Library Association urges adoption of its recommended policies such as the ALA's Library Bill of Rights, Freedom to Read, and Freedom to View policies, but ALA also encourages libraries to provide service to meet the needs of their local community.

Several policies of the Westerville Public Library differ from ALA guidelines, such as Internet access, and confidentiality of customer records. Our selection policy refers to print and non-print materials but is also applicable to electronic resources. Westerville's policies hold parents and guardians responsible for their children's selections and materials checked out on minor's cards; we include an exception to confidentiality of customer records and will release information on a minor's card to parents or guardians.

Filtering

The library uses a filter software application to screen all public computers having Internet access. This product is highly interactive, allowing library staff to quickly access, block or unblock sites and works well in our network environment.

The Westerville Public Library blocks sites, not words, so as to not block health, medical and other information which through key word searching might become inaccessible. This software has proven effective in enforcing the library's Appropriate Use Policies. However, no system is foolproof. Further monitoring or restrictions are the sole responsibility of the parent or guardian. The library encourages parents and guardians to educate themselves and their children of safety issues regarding Internet access. Again, we recommend viewing the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children's NetSmartz program.

Policy Enforcement

Customers who access pornographic sites, attempt to access password functions and otherwise violate the Acceptable Use Policy are abusing computer services and are subject to losing computer, Internet and perhaps library privileges. Library staff will intervene by following procedures to address policy violations, including securing name, address, library card, issuing a "cease and desist" warning, and up to termination of library card and/or use of the building.

Questions or Complaints

If Library staff find, through their own searches or a customer's inquiry, sites that seem inappropriate, they are to call, email or send notes with the Web address to Computer Services Department, or appropriate selector to request the site be reviewed.

Request for Reconsideration

An online form for customers who wish to register an official request to unblock a particular site is offered automatically upon a web site being blocked. When submitted, the request is sent to the Computer Services Department for prompt review.

Legislation

As the important national debate in courts and Congress continues balancing intellectual freedom with protection of minors from pornographic and sexually explicit materials, we will revise our policies and practices to comply with those decisions.

LIBRARY WEBSITE

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Library maintains a website to further communication with its customers and to provide remote access to its resources. In choosing resources to link directly to its website, the Library follows its materials selection policy. However, the library does not monitor or control information accessible through the Internet and is not responsible for the content of that information.

SOCIAL NETWORKING

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Library may use social networking to facilitate communication and encourage collaboration between Library staff and Library customers. The Library reserves the right to monitor content before it is posted on all of its social networking sites and accounts, and to modify or remove any messages or postings that it deems, in its sole discretion, to be abusive, defamatory, in violation of copyright, trademark right or other intellectual property right of any third party, or otherwise inappropriate for the service.

The Library also reserves the right to edit or modify any submissions in response to requests for feedback or other commentary. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Library is not obligated to take any such actions, and will not be responsible or liable for content posted by any subscriber in any forum, message board, or other area within the service.

WIRELESS INTERNET ACCESS

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Library provides wireless Internet access throughout its building. Properly equipped Internet-enabled devices will connect to the network in the same manner they would to other typical wireless networks. The wireless network is unsecured. Customers should use appropriate caution when transmitting personal information over unsecured networks.

CUSTOMER CONDUCT AND LIBRARY SECURITY

PUBLIC BEHAVIOR POLICY

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Westerville Public Library Board of Trustees is responsible for determining the rules for public behavior in the Library that are necessary to

- Sustain an environment that is conducive to the purpose of the Library for both customers and staff.
- Ensure the use of the facilities, materials, and services by the greatest number of individuals.
- Preserve those materials and facilities from harm.
- Ensure the safety of Library customers and staff.

Any misconduct that hinders the use of Library materials or services, that disturbs the use of the library by other customers or Library staff, or endangers the safety of the customer in question or other customers or Library staff, is prohibited. Such misconduct might include, but is not limited to:

- Loud or boisterous behavior.
- Conversation that is disturbing to other customers or staff.
- Profanity or other abusive language toward other customers or toward staff.
- Possessing any weapon on Library property, unless authorized by law.
- Damaging Library furniture, equipment, or materials.
- Harassing others, either verbally or through actions. Harassment may include initiating unwanted conversations, impeding entering or exiting the building, etc.
- Fighting on Library property.
- Using tobacco in any form, or e-cigarettes, while inside the Library building.
- Possessing, selling, or using alcoholic beverages or illegal substances on Library property.
- Buying, selling of any kind, or soliciting for personal gain or charitable purposes.
- Using any personal listening device at a level that can be heard by others.
- Skating or skateboarding anywhere on Library property.
- Distributing literature, taking surveys, or asking customers or staff to sign petitions within the Library building.
- Bringing an animal, other than a service animal, into the Library building.

- Not wearing shirt or shoes.
- Leaving personal property unattended.
- Using an emergency exit at times other than an emergency.
- Any activities prohibited by law.

The Library reserves the right to inspect all bags, purses, briefcases, packs, personal equipment, and coats/outerwear for the presence of library materials.

The above rules are based on powers granted to a public library board of trustees under the Ohio Revised Code, Section 3375.40(H).

ENFORCEMENT OF PUBLIC BEHAVIOR POLICY

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

Library employees are authorized to bring to an individual's attention any act or omission which violates the Library's rules for public behavior and detracts from the decorum of the library. Such an individual will be asked to change the problem behavior to conform to the rules.

If such change is not evident or forthcoming, that individual will be asked to leave Library property. Failure to leave, if asked, will result in the police being called. A violation of section 2911.21 of the Ohio Revised Code (Criminal Trespass) will be considered if the individual does not leave of his own accord.

Depending on the severity of the misbehavior, individuals who have been asked to leave the building and property may be barred from returning to the Library for a set period of time. Such individuals will be informed of the date they may return to Library property. If the banned customer is a minor, the child's parent or legal guardian will be informed of the reason for and the length of the ban.

During the time they are banned, these individuals may use the Library's drive-up window as long as they stay inside their vehicle. Any banned individuals who otherwise enter Library property will be arrested for trespassing.

PETITIONING AND DISTRIBUTING INFORMATION

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

Courts have held that a public library is a “limited public forum.” “Limited” means it is a place to exercise First Amendment rights, subject to reasonable restrictions as to the time, place, and manner for doing do.

The Westerville Public Library supports free speech, but also reserves the right to establish the following guidelines for anyone who wishes to gather signatures for a petition or distribute information on Library property. Such persons must

1. stay outside the Library building when gathering signatures or distributing information.
2. avoid positioning themselves or any objects, such as tables and chairs, on the walkways laid with square black pavers so as not to obstruct ingress or egress to the Library building.
3. treat Library customers in a polite, low-key manner.
4. refrain from using equipment for audio amplification.

Any person who does not follow these guidelines will be required to leave Library property; however, a petitioner/distributor of information who is willing to adhere to the guidelines will be welcome to substitute in his/her place.

UNATTENDED MINORS

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Library welcomes and encourages customers of all ages to visit the library and take advantage of the programs, services and resources that it offers.

Responsibility for the safety and behavior of minors always rests with the parent, guardian, or assigned adult caregiver, and not with library staff. Staff cannot act in loco parentis, nor can Library staff supervise unattended youth. Children under age 8, especially, should always be in sight of and closely supervised by a parent or responsible adult caregiver.

Any child under age 8 not within sight of his parent or responsible adult caregiver in the Library will be considered abandoned. If a reasonable effort to locate the parent or responsible adult caregiver is not successful, the police will be called to take charge of the abandoned child.

STRANDED CHILD AT CLOSING TIME

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

No stranded child under age 14 shall be left on Library property at closing time. A child will be considered abandoned if parent, legal guardian or assigned caregiver is not present at closing time. In this case, staff will call the police and ask them to assume responsibility for the unattended child. Two staff members will remain with the stranded child until police arrive.

PERSONAL PROPERTY DISCLAIMER

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

Customers should be attentive to their property while in the Library or on Library grounds. The Library is not responsible for a customer's lost, damaged, or stolen property.

VIDEO SURVEILLANCE AND RECORDING

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The purpose of video surveillance is to deter crime and to aid in protecting the safety of individuals and the property of the Library. Video surveillance of areas for security purposes is conducted in a manner consistent with other existing Library policies, and is limited to uses that do not violate the reasonable expectation of privacy.

Areas under surveillance may include those of public use, staff work areas, parking lots, and grounds. Targeted video surveillance is prohibited if such observation is based on the characteristics and classifications that would be considered discriminatory under law (e.g., race, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, disability, etc.).

The existence of this policy does not imply or guarantee that any or all cameras are recording images, or are monitored in real time, 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Video surveillance images may be viewed only by Library staff or law enforcement officers.

SPECIAL SERVICES

VOTER REGISTRATION

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Library provides Voter Registration and Absentee Ballot Request forms for both Franklin and Delaware Counties and forwards the completed forms to the appropriate State of Ohio government office.

The Customer Services Department is responsible for handling these forms according to the guidelines established by the Ohio Secretary of State's office.

NOTARY SERVICE

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Library has several notaries on staff. No fee is charged for notary service. Customers should call the Library in advance to make sure a notary will be available, and to confirm they can meet the requirements for notarization of their documents.

TEST PROCTORING

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

Staff members in the Library's Adult Services Department will administer exams from any school or institution that allows for test proctoring.

This may include

- High schools
- Distance learning centers
- Colleges
- Universities
- Licensing agencies

The proctor will verify identification and ensure that the time limit for taking the test is adhered to, that no unauthorized sources are used, and that the completed test is returned in the manner specified.

A test must be scheduled in advance by contacting the Adult Services Department of the Library. At that time, the Adult Services staff member will determine if the Library proctor can meet all of the criteria specified by the institution from which the test originated.

There is a $10 fee for each exam scheduled for proctoring. Payment will be due at the time the test is administered.

GOLDEN BUCKEYE CARDS

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

Ohio residents who are at least 60 years of age or disabled can register for a Golden Buckeye card at the main desk in the Library atrium. Staff members will verify proof of age or disability in accordance with the instructions on the registration form. Completed forms are sent to the State of Ohio at no charge to the customer. No copies of completed forms are retained at the Library.

INCOME TAX FORMS

Policy last updated: September 23, 2014

The Library provides a basic selection of federal and state income tax forms during tax season. These forms are sent to the Library by the various taxing authorities to distribute free of charge to our customers. The timeliness of the forms' arrival, their content, and/or their quantity is not under the control of the Library.

Staff may assist customers in locating specific tax forms and publications; however, they do not interpret tax regulations or provide tax advice.
